Re: Protus IP Solutions Inc. Subpoena/Deposition

Mr. Walkup:

I am in receipt of your letter today via fax. I do not take lightly to your looking down your nose at me - I do not need to justify my personal schedule to you. I stated I had a previous obligation and that is all I need to say.

Do not downplay this ridiculous deposition you are trying to force on me – it will require me to drive 35 miles in rush hour traffic in to Houston and then back. Meaning I will have to take vacation time or no pay for most of the day. My family counts on my income and I spend my vacation time with them. You and your junk fax client will not interfere with that. Further, I do not have an attorney and I will not be forced by you into the expense of retaining an attorney for something I am not a party to.

Obviously that is what this is all about – forcing me to spend time and money I do not have on this ridiculous deposition which is nothing more than retaliation against me for daring to request that your client stop sending junk faxes to the federal facility where I work.

I will say it one last time: I am not a party to the matter and have no knowledge of the matter. As such I can refuse to and do refuse to cooperate with you and your clients illegal junk fax agenda.

For the second time and last time, please stop trying to involve me in this matter.

Thank you,

P.S. It is really perverse that you want my cooperation but your client refuses to stop sending junk faxes to the federal facility I work at.
